

Women in SETT Leadership Program Overview (Vancouver 2017)

The WinSETT Centre, in conjunction with sponsors, are bringing the full series of WinSETT Leadership Workshops to Vancouver in 2017. These are professional development leadership workshops developed by the WinSETT Centre and tailored to early and mid-career female engineers, scientists, tradespeople and technologists in science and technology based sectors.

What are the Workshops About?

- All of the workshops are professionally facilitated, highly interactive and focused on increasing your skills through guided role-play exercises, case studies and practice in a supportive environment
- Participants will
 - benefit from the strategies and tips from female leaders in the sector who are guest speaker and from each other (maximum of 30 per workshops)
 - learn from the research on gender factors affecting the workshop topic and
 - network with other women with a variety of experiences in SETT sectors

Becoming Leaders: An Introduction to Leadership Skills and Strategies (Friday, January 20, 2017)

What are the core competencies of leadership? What strengths and challenges do women in SETT face as they become leaders? This module explores these topics and enables participants to:

- Increase awareness of factors that influence career and leadership success
- Gain confidence in making career and leadership development choices
- Share and acquire useful tips and strategies
- Develop a preliminary action plan to advance personal leadership potential

Effective Communication (Friday, February 17, 2017)

This workshop will enable participants to discover and tailor their own communication style and strengths to more effectively convey their ideas and solutions, exchange information and gain recognition. Specifically,

- Become aware of different styles of communication
- Assess your own communication style, strengths and challenges
- Learn from the research on gender factors affecting communication
- Formulate and practice strategic self-promotion

Negotiating for Success (Friday, March 10, 2017)

Participants will gain awareness of the many workplace situations in which negotiation takes place and learn about the underlying factors that can affect their personal effectiveness and outcomes of those negotiations. They will then practice methods to advance their own skills to negotiate for opportunities, resources to enhance productivity, recognition, financial benefits, promotions, and access to networks. Specifically:

- Learn about different negotiation models and identify opportunities for negotiation
- Understand and be able to use the 'win-win' (collaborative) negotiation model
- Assess your own negotiation strengths and challenges

Navigating the Politics of the Workplace (Friday, April 7, 2017)

This module will help participants recognize the informal organization of the workplace, understand the networks of influence, and develop strategies to neutralize negative behaviours (yours and others'), and positively promote your ideas and career.

- Better understand what Workplace Politics is relative to their experience
- Enhance appreciation of the positive and negative role Workplace Politics can play in career advancement
- Learn from the research on gender factors affecting Workplace Politics
- Assess your own strengths and challenges in navigating politics in the workplace
- Understand the informal organizational structures and relationships in the workplace that underpin Workplace Politics
- Be better prepared to deal with specific political situations at work

Networking, Mentors and Sponsors – What, Why, How (Friday, May 5, 2017)

This module describes the importance of networks, their context, how to develop and strengthen your networking skills, elegant positioning for advancement, and how to leverage your network in support of your career goals. The workshop will also describe the different kinds of mentors, coaches and sponsors and how to mutually benefit from those relationships. Specifically,

- Appreciate the critical role of relationships to supporting and advancing their career
 - Revisit their leadership and career goals
 - Learn how to develop (and be) sponsors and mentors
 - Strengthen their networking skills
- Reflect on the professional presence they project
